NC State’s Doctorate in Educational Leadership

Ranked #1 in NC & #14 in the USA by US News & World Reports.

NC State ranked a "Best Buy" by Money magazine.

Exceptional Faculty, including 4 Former State School Chiefs

Leads to NC Superintendent License

Hybrid Model

NC State’s Ed.D. in Educational Leadership is designed to prepare systems-level leaders to improve the quality of K-12 schools by preparing the next generation of superintendents dedicated to educational excellence and equity. Graduates are empowered with leadership strategies that improve student performance in environments that are dynamic, interactive and culturally diverse.

Graduates lead efforts to improve student outcomes in educational systems that are dynamic, joyful, and culturally responsive.

Tuition reduced by approximately 1/3 as compared to on-campus rate

Earn your Ed.D. at NC State where we “Think and Do the Extraordinary”™

Slots for this EdD cohort will fill quickly! Don't miss your opportunity to be a part of something extraordinary! Apply today! Applications will be reviewed as they are received, but the deadline is January 5, 2021.

Coursework begins Summer 2021!

For more information go to: https://ced.ncsu.edu/programs/doctoral-educational-leadership/

The GRE or MAT requirement is waived for the 2021 application cycle due to COVID-19's impact on testing access.

For more information, contact Dr. Fran Riddick, Fran_Riddick@ncsu.edu or 919-515-6901.